“Children show us every day that they know how to use ICT. However, they might not always use ICT responsibly and safely. Being a good ‘digital citizen’ is vital in the 21st century. Children need to understand copyright, the true costs of downloading “free” music and movies and the far-reaching consequences of what they do and say while using the Internet. They need guidance from teachers and from their parents to be sure that they are always thinking about their own safety, and the safety of others.”

Literacy in ICT is for me!

TORNADOES

BY: Anderson Yoo

A tornado is a violent, dangerous, twisting column of air that touches the surface of the earth. These awesome natural phenomenon comes in many shapes and sizes, but are usually in the form of a condensation funnel, whose narrow end touches the earth and is often covered by a cloud of debris and dust. Most tornadoes have wind speeds less than 177 km per hour, are approximately 80 m across, and can travel several kilometers before disappearing. The most extreme can attain wind speeds of more than 300 mph, stretch more than 3 km across, and stay on the ground for more than 100 km. They can be quite dangerous if you're near, so try to stay out of its path!

HOW TORNADOES ARE FORMED

First, thunderstorm forms. They start to get created near low-pressure areas of the high winds. The warmer air moves upward and the cooler air downward. When these two types of air bump into each other, the main thunderstorm is formed. Fast moving, cold and dry air meets moister, warmer air. Usually, cold air moves underneath warmer air. In this case, though, the colder air overruns the warmer air. The warmer air then rushes upward fastly. Air also blows in from the sides. This creates strong, twisting updrafts. This becomes a tornado.

Tornadoes are extremely dangerous and even can lift cars and houses up!

Clouds

Fun Fact: A halo is always a rainbow but it is ring around the sun.

Why are clouds white?
Clouds are white because the air reflects off them.

Why Do Clouds Turn Gray?
The water and ice scatter all white which makes them look white. If the cloud gets thick enough or high enough all the light above does not make it through. Which makes it have a gray or dark look.

Fun Fact: A cloud is a large collection of water or ice droplets.

Condensation

Harder for a cloud to float - the air that its made of is warmer than the air outside it floats.

Types of clouds:
High=Cirrus
Middle=Alto
Low=Stratus

Common types of cloud:
Cirrocumulus, Cirrus, Cumulonimbus, Altostratus, Stratus, Stratocumulus, Nimbocumulus, Cumulus, Nimbostratus, Mammatus, Barchan.

Child soldiers

We must stop Child Soldiers

The military use of children takes three distinct forms: children can take direct part in fighting (child soldiers), or they can be used in support roles such as porters, spies, messengers, look outs, or they can be used for political advantage either as human shields

Women Soldiers, even children to longer have rights to go to the voters, representation for protection and address are warrenty position. Ad two young women is representative quality. Ad two young children struggle with the general economic labor market and they are a ready source of labor. With a skills programme called "COLOP" (COLOP) will be used by many people and supported by UNICEF. It has been proposed that UNICEF should be used to provide training and support to children who have been recruited by war. In practice COLOP will be young adults aged

You have the right to protection from any exploitation (being taking advantage of) that is a right. It taking away from them so it does not affect their lives

2 you have the right of protection and freedom from war children under 15 can not be forced to war or take any part of war

It means that in reality girls and boys illegally and under force, participate in combat where frequently they are injured or killed. Others are used as spies, messengers, porters, servants or to lay or clear landmines.
